MORE MEDIA LIES!

THE DESPICABLE attitude of the media towards the National Front does not just end at ignoring our ideas and trying to present our Movement in a bad light. The media in this country also go out of their way to lie about the Movement of the Future. The media and their paymasters are so worried about our visionary ideas for a Just society that they are pursuing a policy of trying to link the NF in peoples' minds with criminal activity. The very latest instance of this campaign of lies arose as we are going to press. It was reported on the Independent Radio News (IRN) that a thug with a gun, who took a woman hostage in London, was an "NF skinhead... an NF member". DON'T FALL FOR MEDIA LIES!

US OR THEM?

"Why the B.B.C. and the commercial companies have been more hospitable to Sinn Fein than say the National Front is difficult to say. But that they most certainly have been few experts would deny".

THE cat is out of the bag! An article in the Sunday Telegraph (October 23rd 1988) confirmed what NF News has said for years:

The mass media have deliberately conspired to deny the public the right to know about the National Front and our vibrant and realistic solutions to the many problems in this crumbling society.

The truth slipped out during the journalistic wailing and nashing of teeth over the government's ban on media platforms for spokesman for the IRA and Ulster Defence Association. The Telegraph editorial suggested that the media had brought it on themselves by not giving the IRA and other gunmen the same 'silent treatment' or barrage of lies and smears that they have given to the legal and peaceful National Front.

There are a number of reasons why the mass media treat the NF worse than they do gunmen and bombers. But they boil down to this: Even though they murder women and children as well as unarmed servicemen, the IRA actually share the basic aims of the London Establishment they claim to oppose. For the Westminster/Fleet Street/City axis wants to dump Ulster into a 'United Ireland' as soon as possible. Their quarrel with the IRA is not over fundamental aims, but merely over tactics.

Even the IRA's Marxism is not a major stumbling block. After all, the Marxists are unable to understand or deal with the problem of usury and the power of international finance. Add to this their ruthless disregard for the rights of their workers and the environment and you see - as the Capitalists see - that Communist regimes actually make very good customers for the banks and multi-nationals. So there's nothing about the IRA to frighten Wall Street or the City. So there's no reason for the media to attack them, except after shooting or bombing outrages when such coverage sells papers.

THE SAME SYSTEM

When the crunch comes, the Murdochs, Grades, Thatchers, Kinnocks and Gerry Adams of this world are part of the same System. They are all materialistic, all internationalist, all believe in enforced multi-racism. They all believe that they have the right to tell ordinary people how to think and what to do.

They may differ about which group of crooks should benefit, but they all operate the same rip-off. One way or another, they all claim to 'represent the people', but everyone knows that they only represent themselves and the vested interests who back them. You can choose between them, but that doesn't give you a choice!

But the National Front stands outside all this stinking hypocrisy. We offer a real alternative, not the illusion of 'choice' offered by the parties of the System consensus.

Whatever their differences of emphasis, they are all Capitalist. Even Marxism emerges as a form of State Capitalism when put into practice. All the parties of the System are multi-racist, favouring the destruction of the unique White, Black and Asian racial and cultural identities by forced integration. Every party in parliament supports the American military occupation of our islands, in spite of its threat to our national sovereignty and our chances of keeping out of foreign wars.

They all favour submerging our surviving identities in the EEC - the Europe of the Merchants - which has nothing to do with cultural unity or geo-political necessity, and everything to do with Big Business greed.

THE BIG LIE

And all of them tell us the big lie - the absurd claim that 650 fat and lazy politicians can somehow 'represent' 55 million individuals. Even the Scottish National Party and Plaid Cymru, for all their claims to be nationalist and democratic, are happy to send their hacks to Westminster, although they would rather collect their fat saleries at locally based versions of the same corrupt charade.

The mass media share and reinforce this dictatorship by consensus. As the Sunday Telegraph article stated, the TV, radio and press ensure that issues which expose the dictatorial nature of consensus politics - such as immigration and the bankers' swindle - are never covered in a way which could lead the public to look for a real alternative. And organizations which refuse to 'toe the line' are alternately smeared and ignored, in order to ensure that the public do not get a chance to consider a genuine alternative position.

So don't be fooled! There is no choice between the parties and 'ideas' of the System. There can never be any choice there, because they are all the same. The truth is that the only choice is between exploitation by the System as a whole and freedom with the National Front. And the time will come when everyone has to make that choice.

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

TORIES PUT LIVES AT RISK IN ORDER TO INCREASE PROFITS

HOW MANY?

FOR many years, ships and aircraft have had devices known as 'black boxes' which help investigate accidents by giving the investigators the ability to reconstruct the accident under review. This has helped to save countless lives in air travel, for he who knows the mistakes of the past can learn how not to make them in future.

But a British designed 'black box' for ships and oil rigs has been shunned on the grounds of the cost - £50,000 per vessel. Yet according to David Robinson, of the Advanced Studies section of Lloyds "We believe the marine black box marks a major step towards the shipping communities long-term goal of improved safety, with reduction of the loss of life and destruction of property that is a consequence of accidents".

The short-sighted greed of ship owners and oil rig operators in rejecting this life-saving innovation is truly terrifying. How many more Herald of Free Enterprise's? How many more Piper Alpha's? How many more widows and orphans?

MONEY GRUBBING

IT'S not only the Health Service where the establishment puts life at risk with its callous money-grubbing. Secret government plans to scrap vital services of the coastguard radio stations for small craft mean that mayday calls could go unanswered and put sailors lives at risk.

The plans to axe the radio service, called CG66, are contained in a leaked internal Department of Transport memo. It also has proposals for the closure of three of the 24 coastguard stations around our shores.

As with the NHS, the coastguard service has no profit motive and is therefore a prime target for the Tories profit before lives motto.

A SENIOR civil airlines pilot has slammed the privatisation of the British Airports Authority and says that a new Gatwick runway is needed for safety. Captain W. Roberts pointed out that airliners cannot simply park up in the sky as lorries do in a layby.

He claims that the sudden closure of Gatwick's single runway for emergency repairs was a 'contributory' factor in the terrible air miss over Lydd a few months ago between a BA Tristar and a Bulgarian jet, when 350 lives were at stake.

But it looks as if nothing will be done. As Roberts sadly states, "the recent privatisation of the British Airports Authority has converted it into a property company instead of a provider of airports in the public interest".

Pilots have said "it will probably take 150 corpses spread about Gatwick's green fields before something is done".

WE SAY: People before Profit!

AN ACT OF GOOD FAITH

ONE OF the largest bones of contention between the British State and many of its former empire 'colonies' and even numerous non-empire countries, lies in the British Museum where the State holds many religious and cultural artefacts from all over the world. Many of the items are of great significance to the other countries and there is an ever-increasing clamour from these countries for them to be handed back.

The artefacts were obtained by means both foul and fair, but mainly foul. So we in the Third Position believe that many of these unique items and collections must be returned to their countries of origin. For how would we feel if our races treasures were kept in another countries vaults? We must agree to their just demands as an act of good faith.

SEPARATE OUR SCHOOLS!

MULTI-RACIAL and multi-cultural schooling has always brought a lot of heartbreak, ill-feeling and tension, as one school can never meet the aspirations and traditions of many varied races and cultures under one roof. The Barnet Post recently illustrated how such schooling can bring about tension, which could easily develop into race hatred.

In this case, an eleven year old Muslim boy, Hasham Ahamd, was expelled from his school because he refused to shower naked after gym. This has made the Muslim Community furious and has developed into a heated row.

The Imam of the local mosque backed the protest saying "nude bathing is completely out of the question for Muslims, they must cover the private parts of their body".

We believe that you cannot forcibly impose Christian morals or Tradition upon Muslims or other cultures, but nor can you force other races culture upon Christian children. That is why we believe that the best way to achieve racial harmony before repatriation is to separate our schools so that our religious and cultural needs can be catered for.

THE BULLDOG BREED

SOME dog breeders now go in for cosmetic mutilations of dogs for show purposes. According to a working party report of the Council for Science and Society, cosmetic mutilations include docking tails, removing claws and the more outrageous demands of breeding standards for dog shows. This 'respectable' over-breeding and 'improving' would be better described as genetic mutilation.

The British bulldog for example has a breed standard which insists on a massive head relative to the body. As a result, many bulldog bitches cannot give birth normally. Breeders compromise the health and welfare of the animals involved. In particular, dogs suffer respiratory problems, the skin folds on the face easily become infected and their bulging eyes are often scratched.

But this sick approach to dog breeding should surprise no-one. After all, when the system regards people as mere economic units, what hope is there for animals!

FLIGHTS OF FANCY

IT'S NOT every day that an insider of the establishment shows some details of the low life that swims the murky waters of the BBC. But a review by Mr. Patrick Cosgrave of the new book 'Live from Number 10 - The Inside Story of Prime Ministers and Television', by Michael Cockrell, gives us a glimpse of the BBC's so-called high standards.

Cockrell was the man who cost the Beeb half a million pounds in damages and costs by libelling two Conservative backbenchers in the Panorama programme 'Maggie's Militant Tendancy'. Despite this, Cockrell kept his job and now has "the cheek to write a book about political broadcasting".

Patrick Cosgrave claims that Cockrell quoted him five times in his book and that four times were wildly out of context. He relates how Cockrell fixes his programmes with his over-excited brand of journalism. He cites one instance during the 1974 General Election campaign: Enoch Powell, the establishment safety valve, held a meeting in Birmingham. Although he had had not seen the speech, nor the audience reaction, Cockrell told Mr. Cosgrave that he intended in his commentary to make a comparison between Powell and Mussolini. Sure enough, when the Panorama report came out, the first sentence of his narration made the comparison.

He also comments on the 'Maggie's Militant Tendancy' affair. He states "It was a rather staid affair and the occasion for a brilliant, if somewhat academic, lecture on NATO by Colonel George Richey. Cunning editing however made it seem like a National Front rally".

Cosgrave ends his review by saying of Cockrell's new book, "I feel I am wholly justified in telling my readers that it is rubbish". But as the inventive Cockrell is still on the pay-roll of the BBC, we will no doubt be subject to his further flights of fancy!

BRITTAN FOR THE BRITISH?

ARCH Zionist and former Tory Home Secretary Leon Brittan has stated that if the Scots wanted self-determination in an independent Scotland within the European Community they could have it, as everyone has the right to self-determination.

We quite agree, but NFN asks Brittan how any country could call itself independent while remaining within the EEC bankers' dictatorship? And we also wonder how serious Brittan really is. Does this right also extend to Ulster or to the Palestinians?

WHERE WE STAND

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Britain is a family of Nations - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Eire and Ulster - linked by blood and history. The peoples of all nations have an inalienable right to self-determination and to preserve their native cultures and traditions. We look forward to the day when Eire voluntarily rejoins the future federated British family of nations.

RACIAL SEPARATION

Race is the main determining factor in nationality. Racially mixed societies cannot form one nation and are therefore unstable. No one race is 'superior' to others, but they are all different. Racial integration threatens all races. Humane repatriation is better for us all than endless repression and racial violence.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The nation is a great family. Every member of our national family has the absolute right to care at the nation's expense when young, sick or old. There must be equal opportunity for all, but unearned privilege for none.

WELL DISTRIBUTED PROPERTY

The realistic opportunity to own one's own home and place of work is the right of all our people. Direct ownership of the means of production and distribution is essential for individual freedom, for family stability and for the best use of our national resources.

SANITY IN FINANCE

The right to create the credit needed by the economy must belong to the people's government. The banks, which have usurped this right, must be stripped of their unjust gains and power. The National Debt is based on usury and must be repudiated.

RESPECT FOR NATURE

We hold the environment in trust for future generations. Pollution of the land, sea and air, and of the gene pool through radiation, is a betrayal of that trust.

POPULAR RULE

Parliamentary representation is a fraud. Party rule is a cloak for the dictatorship of vested interests and media bosses. Government must be in the hands of the people themselves, through new information technology, and the election of delegates to carry out their wishes. Power must be devolved to the lowest possible level.

THE ARMED PEOPLE

The freedoms given by these principles must be defended through armed neutrality, with well - equiped national defence forces involving the entire adult population. Power, wealth and arms in the hands of the people!

REVOLUTION NOT REFORM

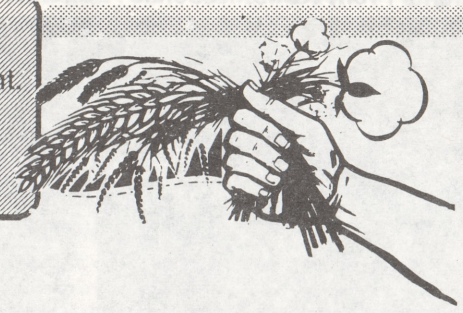
These changes cannot be brought about by tinkering within the System, or by relying on the System's own institutions, such as parliament, schools or the courts. They can only spring from a National Revolution. This revolution must begin in the hearts of individuals, then spread by their example to involve whole communities in revolutionary structures such as alternative councils and schools, neighbourhood patrols and self-help groups. Once we cease to depend on the institutions of the old State, it will be swept aside.

THE THIRD WAY

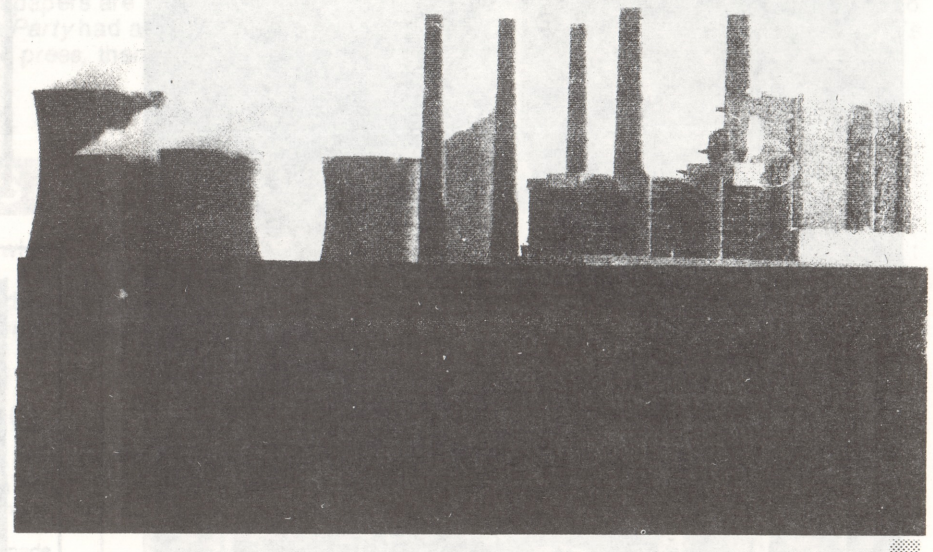
The growth of these ideas in nation after nation shows that a new force is rising in the world for the 21st century. Leaving behind the sterile hatreds of Capitalism and Communism, this Third Way offers a real future for all our peoples. We urge all those who agree with these principles to join with us in the struggle to build the National Front - the Movement of the Future.

IN THIS special feature NF News takes a look at the destruction of the environment, something that is extremely precious to us all and of deep concern to the national movement.

We also highlight the absolute hypocrisy of the Right, exemplified by Tories, in their recently found concern for the environment, and remark on their true position.



TORIES JUMP ON THE GREEN BANDWAGON



THE Tory government are going 'Green'! According to Margaret Thatcher, care of the environment is of great concern to her!

Not one to miss out on growing public opinion, the grocer's daughter from Grantham has recently placed increasing emphasis in her speeches on 'Green' issues in an attempt to woo those people who are concerned for their environment.

As the case for the environment becomes an increasingly popular issue, the Thatcher regime hopes to form the vanguard of a subject that crosses party boundaries. The likelihood is that the Tories will introduce new legislation and 'far reaching measures' concerning the environment just prior to the next General Election in an attempt to 'catch' floating voters whose interests lie in 'Green' politics.

PROFIT BEFORE NATURE

But we must not forget that this is the same government that has constantly placed profit before nature. To the Tories, campaigning on environmental issues is merely a practical method by which to gain votes rather than being based upon any moral prerequisites. When Thatcher and one of her minions, Nicholas Ridley, Secretary of State for the Environment, talk of the introduction of legislation to improve control over hazardous waste, pollution and building on the Green Belt these are merely themes to be exploited in order to maintain Tory power.

If anyone doubts this, they should simply look at what the Tories do rather than what they say. For example, on the very same day that Thatcher 'saw the (Green) light' it was announced that the government was scrapping a scheme designed to protect ancient and beautiful landscapes from the bulldozers of agri-business.

And it is becoming obviously clear that the Tories are going to exploit legitimate worries about acid rain to justify a massive increase in the deadly and highly centralized nuclear power programme to which they are addicted.

The plain fact is that this government cannot be committed to environmentalism, because it is already committed to Capitalism, with its belief in endless economic growth.

The two are incompatible. Tory 'concern' for nature is a hoax.

... A TRUE REFLECTION-

BUT the muddy waters surrounding Thatcher's devious hypocrisy are not yet murky enough to conceal a true reflection of the System's real attitude towards our natural environment.

For Peregrine Worsthorne, one of the chief sorcerers and mind-benders of the Right-wing of the British establishment has actually turned his venom upon environmentalists. Writing in the Sunday Telegraph during September, Worsthorne penned an article entitled "Green is for Danger".

He did his very best to knock down environmental activists who, according to him, are constantly crying 'wolf' with their "exagerated propaganda".

He thinks of the 'Green' movement as the "refuge for Left-wing extremists and cranks" and that "the rhetoric of the 'Greens' increasingly seems sinisterly reminiscent of Enoch Powell's Rivers of Blood phrophecy". Quite clearly the 'Green' issue is one that worries and shakes the foundations of the establishment to the core.

Worsthorne ends his article by saying that "neither Capitalism nor Socialism has any answer to the ecological problems which transcend the understanding of all political 'isms', as indeed do the problems of race".

For once he has got it right. Neither the 'Right' nor the 'Left' can solve the problems of the environment or race. Only the Third Position has an all encompassing political programme and sane world-view that will save and nurture the environment and solve the problems of race with Social Justice for all the peoples concerned.

RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY, AND DON'T COME BACK!

THE UK has a devastating acid rain problem. Rain falling on Manchester is actually more acidic than that destroying Scandinavian lakes and German forests according to the first research project to study the level of acid rain falling on our urban areas.

A report published by the Acid Rain Information Unit at Manchester Polytechnic says the UK's acid rain problem (the key constituent of which is nitrogen oxide from car exhausts) is getting worse. The government's emissions from British power stations, although bad, are not the main cause, according to scientists.

British sulphur emissions caused by burning coal were falling anyway because of the decline of our heavy industries and a switch away from coal as a source of fuel. Within 10 years the UK would have become a member of the '30% Club' by default. This group of States made a pledge in 1980 to reduce sulphur emissions by 30%, an agreement Thatcher refused to sign.

But while sulphur emissions from our power stations have fallen by 25% since 1980, the Scandinavians now believe that only a 90% cut from the 1980 level will protect their forests and lakes. Other European States are pledged to make big cuts and blame the UK for holding up on the EEC agreement that would turn the 30% Club into the 60% Club.

The Manchester study on acid rain began last year. Previously, it was thought that acid rain was only a problem in high, rural areas like the Scottish Highlands. The project, based upon rain samples from 120 sites across Greater Manchester, found that at least 50% of the harmful gases falling on Manchester came from car exhaust emissions.

Levels of acidity (known as PH values) reached as high as 3.6 when the annual average in Scandinavia is only 4.2 (a low number means the level of acidity is high - an acceptable low level is 6). The scientists estimate that the damage from corrosion in Manchester alone at £20m in repairs to property. They estimate the figure for London at £100m.

David Lee, one of the scientists involved in the acid research, says "I think people will be surprised when they find out that they are getting acid rain in their back gardens the same as they get in the badly hit areas of Norway and Sweden".

We are all the victims of an invisible environmental and economic disaster.

DON'T DRINK THE WATER

WE have always been against the use of farm fertilizers containing nitrates which not only harm our wildlife, but also directly affect the health of our peoples.

Now, Mr. John Mather, Chief Geochemist at the British Geological Survey, claims that up to a third of the water flowing from taps in England could exceed health limits for maximum levels of nitrates within a few decades as British farmers pour a massive 1.6 million tonnes of nitrogen fertilizer onto our land each year.

They are then washed into the underground water supplies. Mr. Mather states that "If agricultural activity does not change greatly, most pumped ground water supplies in England will contain more [nitrates] than the European Community's limit".

With the ever growing weight of evidence on our side we can see that our ideas of 'organic' farming will become more and more attractive, not only to the people at large, but also to the scientific community. For our policy is the only one that looks to the future rather than the short-term profits of today's Capitalistic society.

SAFE ENERGY

FOR many years the use of alternative energy sources, such as wind and tidal power, hot rocks, solar power and biofuel from wastes was thought of by the masses as the hobbyhorse of lentil eating vegetarians. The impression was that it could not be taken seriously by the scientific community. But all that has slowly but steadily changed in recent years as more people look to alternative technology as a better option than nuclear power.

Now, the Independent newspaper has reported that by the year 2025 renewable energy technologies could be meeting nearly 30 per cent of current electricity demands.

But the bad news is that the government, although at present giving some nominal financal support for its research and development, are set to phase out even this miniscule amount to almost zero, in practical terms, by the end of the century.

Once again the Tories are putting the vested interests of big business and centralized power before the happiness of our peoples and before the environment on which we all depend.

A HISTORY LESSON

A personal view by Patrick Harrington.

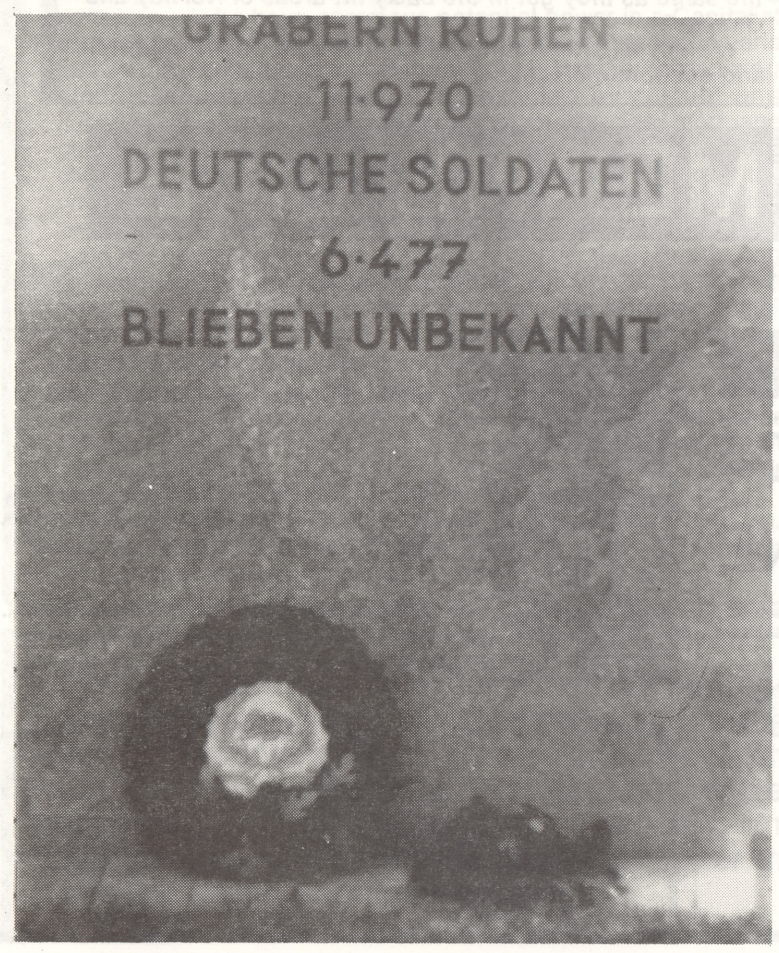
A WEEK before Remembrance Sunday, a delegation from the National Front visited the Somme in the Picardy region of France. The Somme was the scene of bitter fighting during the First World War. On the first day of the Battle of the Somme alone, the 1st of July 1916, over 57,000 British soldiers lay wounded, dying or dead. And though it is impossible to arrive at a final figure for casualties the official historian, Brig-Gen. Sir James E. Edmunds, calculated that the losses were "around 600,000, the French and British slightly over that figure, and the Germans slightly under it".

The delegation based themselves in a town called Albert. During the conflict the strategic value of Albert was similar to that of Ypres, at the northern end of the British front, for it was the hub of a road network with supply line arteries radiating to the nearby battle zone. Albert, today, is very different to that witnessed by Giles Eyre who described "the dark, rubble covered streets of Albert, half unreal in the darkness, and out beyond, the rain now beating at us and running down in riverlets from our ground sheets, draped round shoulders and heads".

From Albert, the delegation toured the battlefields. Names such as Thiepval, Beaumont Hamel, La Boisselle, Fricourt, Delville Wood and Mametz began to mean something to the NF youth who were now able to comprehend and picture in their minds the reality behind the official histories. Rows and rows of gravestones, cemetry after cemetry, made an impression in a way that the sanitised Cenotaph (literally 'empty tomb') in London never did. As the delegation stared at graves marked only with the simple inscription "Known unto God" we reflected on an establishment that viewed our people as mere statistics or elements within an economic equation. As one cadre asked, "And they call us Evil?"

Wreaths were laid at the Thiepval memorial to all the allied dead: at the memorial to the 36th (Ulster) Division and also at the neglected German cemetry at Fricourt. Some months before on an earlier visit to Fricourt I had found only one wreath, laid by a British regiment who had visited the area.

This simple act reminded me of the positive and selfless aspects of man's nature. Perhaps one day, these aspects will not be warped or twisted to Evil ends and a way will be found to express them politically as well as in personal life. Then they will cease to be touching gestures and become a force for change, for creation, for Good.



OUR activity in the Somme region was by no means an excuse for inactivity back home. Throughout the country, NF units laid wreaths at their local monuments. In Merthyr Tydfil and Romford the NF delegations even took part in the official wreath laying ceremonies alongside civic leaders. The most inventive wreath laid was that from Havering NF which bore the figure of a British soldier in the 'Great War' and the legend - "They fought like lions to keep themselves in chains".

DON'T GET DE'PRESS'ED - FIGHT BACK

"We never get fair treatment in the press, the media is biased against us". NF activists often hear statements like this and we have been doing our part in combatting anti-nationalist bias in the media: by exposing the unsavoury background of some anti-NF hacks; by forcing the Press Council to show its unfairness by rejecting constant NF complaints; and by building our own counter-media.

BUT WE WOULD LIKE TO DO MORE! One way in which we can ensure a fair hearing for the nationalist message is to buy advertising space, particularly in local and regional newspapers. To enable us to do this, we have set up a special Advertising Fund to hammer home the message. All money donated will be used to purchase advertising space and donations will be acknowleged in NFN in the usual way.

A LITTLE SCEPTICAL? Some nationalists may be a little sceptical that we will be able to accomplish this, but bear in mind that all newspapers are loss making ventures and rely heavily on their advertising income to exist. The Socialist Workers Party had an advert published in the Independent earlier this year! If the SWP's money is good enough for the press, then so is ours - so donate today. LEGAL FIGHT ON AFTER YOU'VE GONE!

ONE of the greatest regrets our supporters - and especially our oldest supporters - have is that they will not be able to carry on fighting for the Cause for ever!

In 1980, the financial survival of the movement was ensured by the bequest of one of our deceased members. That member was never to know what a vital part she played in the history of our movement, but that does not detract from her contribution.

While, thankfully, the movements finances are on a much more secure footing, the movement is always in need of money to enable it to carry out activities necessary to development.

Make sure that you remember the National Front when you make out your Will. If you have already written your Will add a codicil for the benefit of the movement. If you are unsure about any of the legal technicalities in arranging this, please do not hesitate to contact our Legal Department.

AUTONOMY

ONE OF the greatest faults of pre-'revolutionary' NF leaderships going back 20 years was their failure to see the need to build the Movement as a base in the economy and in communities such as large estates. The only attempt that was made, the forming of an NF Trade Union group, was an ineffective gesture of short-term populism and politically immature 'workerism', rather than a calculated move in response to analysis of political and economic trends. In an effort to show that the NF was pro-Capitalist, we tried to jump on the collapsing bandwagon of the other half of a class struggle which it is our aim to end forever.

For while trade unions are a necessary defence for the working class in a Capitalist society, we must understand that in the society of worker-owners and partners which we are going to build, the unions will become obsolete. When Capitalism is destroyed, its trade union mirror image will fade away. Quite simply, no-one will want or need to organize or strike against themselves.

For this reason, the NF's coming drive to establish an economic/community base will not involve a futile attempt to dislodge the Marxists and time-serving hacks entrenched in the trade unions and in what remains of the old declining industries.

'SUNRISE'

Instead, we must aim to establish workplace units in the 'sunrise' industries. In areas of the economy where power will lie in the 21st century, not where it lay in the 19th.

These areas include information technology, communications, other high-tech electrical ventures, the new highly mechanized coal fields, and the manufacturing or assembly plants being set up by the USA and Far Eastern countries as a way of getting inside the post-1992 EEC tariff barriers.

The other area of growing influence in the economy lies in self-employment, and could include producers' co-operatives if they are systematically encouraged. Worker-owners in these fields have no link to 'mainstream' politics. The Labour Party has its base and interests in the unions, the Tories are the creatures of Big Business. Only the National Front has the ideological justification for, and a true interest in, the concept of "partners not wage-earners". And as we have no existing economic base to protect and are not dominated by old vested interests, there is nothing to stop us concentrating all our energies in the targets we choose.

At present, a few other political groupings - some liberals, some Anarchists, and some 'Small is Beautiful' reformists - are also showing an interest in producers' co-ops. The wide range of people who are attracted to the concept is an indication that here is 'an idea whose time has come'. But we must not be contented to 'share' advocacy of this institution with opportunists or mistily vague idealists who cannot do it the justice of fitting it into a coherent and realistic world-view.

Only revolutionary nationalism can do that, which is why we must seek a monopoly on the producer co-operative ideal. Here is our natural economic constituency. We must nurture it and use our 'unrespectable' name to frighten away any other political group which shows an interest in it. At an earlier stage of the NF's history, this organization took the British imperial flag so that millions of people identified the union jack as "the NF Banner". We can certainly do the same with ideas such as producers' co-ops and matters 'Green'.

CONSUMERS AND TENANTS

We must also work out ways to build a similar base of support among non-workers by agitating and organizing among consumers (who have enormous potential power in a Capitalist society by dint of the role of their purchasing decisions and money). A social base can also be constructed by organizing among tenants who are not represented by corrupt and bureaucratic councils. And it is likely that middle-class mortgage and H.P. slaves will become similarly dissatisfied when Thatcher's election-winning credit boom goes bust. We are quite literally the only people with an understanding of, and answer to, the banking swindle which threatens their cosy world.

So the need and potential for 'Autonomy' is clear. But we can only turn theory into practice, and practice into power, with your help. That needn't mean open activity. You can also play a vital role by sending in trade union and professional journals, your own articles or letters about disputes, health and safety problems etc.

Younger supporters or those offered 're-training' opportunities could look for openings in the areas of the economy outlined as being of particular interest. Others with practical experience of self-employment or co-operative ventures should write articles or letters to help spread their knowledge to other readers.

Everybody can help in some way. But you can only help if you get involved and are determined to control your own future. And that is what Autonomy is all about.

NATIONALIST THEMES

Dear Sir,

This morning, NFN 111 arrived and I must say I was rather startled by the headline: "NF Chiefs visit Libya". When I started to read the articles on the U.S. bombings and the horrific results, I felt such publicity was justified.

The economic developments were particularly interesting, especially the conversion of a bus and truck factory into a co-operative enterprise. Libya's housing policy seemed sane - unlike Thatcher's.

On the subject of somewhere for families to live it was worthwhile NFN devoting a front page story in issue 110 to this area so vital to an individual's well-being.

Hopefully, the arguments that the NF advances will appear to the British public as the only ones that will save us.

However, I hope you will not mind a few words of criticism on some of the content of NFN. I greatly appreciate the revolutionary zeal and desire to get rid of the present system. All well and good. But could we have more articles on 'traditional' nationalist themes? By this I mean defence (always a hot topic in the south), multi-national take-overs of British industry, the EEC menace and simply more home news. I do feel foreign news is disproportionately large (important though it can be).

By the way, the Friends of the Earth address in NFN 111 is wrong: it should be 26-28 Underwood Street, London, N1 7JQ.

Up the (National) Revolution!
Yours sincerely,
G.K. Gosport.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We appreciate your criticism and other comments as we would, and do, from all comrades. It is probably quite true that our journalists tend to write about subjects that are particularly close to their hearts which may lead to a disparity in content. But there is one thing about NFN that differentiates it from any other paper - it is not the property of its Editorial Board, it is also the paper of NF members and our readers. There are no vested interests. The only control is ideological unity. And as such we try to encourage others to get involved with it. This means that we want and indeed need people like yourself to write articles for us, send us reports, photo's, information and clippings.

Apart from building a more varied news coverage this will also help to disperse the workload so that some of our presently overworked staff are able to concentrate more on other projects.

We can't promise that every article we receive will get printed and they may be edited or amended, but don't let that put you off - we all suffer from it! But readers, and especially cadres, should view contributing to their paper as yet another aspect to their involvement in the struggle!

AFRICA

Dear NFN,

I believe the article in NFN 109, where it related to South Africa's AWB, was both inaccurate and unwarranted. I cannot see the necessity to condemn any hardline group which show a vestige of leadership. Surely we should be attacking the Botha regime, and not the staunch Afrikaner backlash to the NP sell-out. Why alienate the fastest growing White party in South Africa? What does the AWB have to do to get into our good books?

It is ridiculous to call them Neo-Nazis. Besides the fact that Terre Blanche has denied this, I see no reason for the NF to jump on a Fleet Street inspired bandwagon.

Everyone should know what the three 7's emblem represents, while the wearing of uniforms should not inspire the Nazi tag anymore than it should do for the Nation of Islam.

I believe it is spineless to bandy the word 'Nazi' about. By all means state our opposition to National Socialism, but to keep on using the word 'Nazi' willy-nilly seems like we are pleading respectability amongst a corrupt establishment.

Finally, I do not understand the claim that the AWB wish to treat Black Africans as guestworkers, to be exploited for White profit. A recent AWB bulletin I received, states their belief in a national self-determination and the creation of an all-White homeland in only part of what is now the Republic.

Since the mass of AWB support comes from working class, often very poor Whites, I'm sure they are quite used to doing their own dirty work, unlike the hypocritical White middle-class liberals of their country, who are quite prepared to exploit anyone, regardless of race or creed, for their own comfort.

Yours,
J.G. London.

ENJOYED YOUR PAPER

Dear Sirs,

I enjoyed your newspaper which somehow found its way to my desk. I was particularly struck by your call for less cruelty to animals (in this case baby seals), and your anti-Zionist, pro-Palestinian stance.

You seemed to have toned down your criticism of the Irish Republican movement. I approve. This issue only said something about how the IRA commits sectarian murders - a thing which the IRA would certainly deny. They say they are non-sectarian, and that the only sectarian murders going on are by the Orangist death squads.

The only things that have disturbed me about the Provo's is that they never denounce the Zionists, and they are in favour of the Communists in such places as El Salvador. This makes me very suspicious of their motives.

But then when I look at such men as Bobby Sands, who hunger-struck to death based on his principles, you have to admit these guys are at least sincere in their beliefs, and that they are political prisoners, as they claim they are, and not common criminals.

Sincerely yours,
J.T. Washington DC.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We are opposed to any group who pursue a policy of armed struggle, or indeed terrorism, on moral and tactical grounds. Innocent civilians will inevitably be caught up in such a policy, and unfortunately often are. 'Mistakes' will always happen, and there is no such thing as "acceptable civilian casulties".

Sectarianism is an unfortunate reality in Ulster, and it is something that we are attempting to eradicate, but the Editorial Staff of NFN do not believe that PIRA are sectarian. They have actually killed more Catholics than the Unionist gunmen. But we do believe that they are anti-religious which brings us to our second point. We oppose such groups politically.

In the case of the Provisionals they are a Marxian-Socialist organization, and their stated aim is a "United Socialist Ireland".

Next to the long years of terrible suffering felt by the entire population of Ulster, the greatest tragedy in that sorrowful land has to be the human waste of the many young, sincere and idealistic men and women, whatever their aims, who took up arms and are now languishing in prison camps.

POLL TAX - A CLARIFICATION

A FEW readers seem to have mistakenly concluded that our last front page advocated violent opposition to the Poll Tax. This was not the intention. The article and its headline described the violence which could result rather than prescribing violence as a means of resistance. The headline was a quote from locals and reflected a popular sentiment amongst their community.

The only thing which could stop the Poll Tax without provoking an even greater growth of police repression powers is peaceful direct action by a significant proportion of each community. If the latest reports that up to 95% of the population intend to register for the tax are correct, as opposed to State propaganda, then this is clearly not going to happen. Under such circumstances, it would clearly be futile for the NF to throw its activists into a head-on clash with the entire State while the public, on whose behalf we refuse to pay, look on disinterestedly. We can't help those who are not prepared to try and help themselves.

However, this does not alter the fact that a tax which falls indiscriminately on everybody, hitting hardest at those least able to pay is, in a divided society such as Capitalist Britain, an outrage against Social Justice. Some people may indeed benefit from it personally, but it must be rejected as a matter of principle.

The old voting system was far from perfect, but there is at least a moral basis for a society to raise money from people who are using its limited reserves of homes (and for that matter land) for their own benefit.

But while we oppose the Poll Tax in principle, there is not a lot the NF can do to stop it in practice. We cannot afford heroic but doomed gestures on behalf of people who will not stand up for themselves.

More important now, is to watch for ways in which collection of the Poll Tax is being used as an excuse to add to the web of State control over all our lives. This is an area where minor victories can be won. And even if they only slow down the final establishment of Free Market Fascism and its Police State, they will be worth fighting for.

FEATURE

HUGE SUCCESS FOR CPR!

THE NF-BACKED Campaign for Palestinian Rights drive to persuade travel agents not to attend the Association of British Travel Agents (ABTA) conference in Israeli-occupied Jerusalem was much more successful than Zionist propaganda first admitted.

We did not manage to get the conference cancelled, but the final number of delegates was little more than 1,500 - half the usual number, and many of the people attending are not connected to ABTA. These include representatives of airlines, hotel chains, shipping companies, the press and spouses.

Quite apart from over one thousand agents who didn't even register to attend this year, there were 200 cancellations in the last week alone. Major companies which withdrew were Access, Cosmos, Thomas Cook, Cunard, Quantras, Commercial Union's Travellers Insurance Association and Suretravel Insurance Brokers.

So while the disgraceful conference went ahead, there is no doubt that the activities of the CPR greatly reduced its effectiveness as a source of future tourist revenue to the Zionist terror-State. The Jewish Chronicle admitted that the boycott threats and pickets "had some effect, resulting in many cancellations at a late stage".

It was the Campaign for Palestinian Rights which first drew attention to the ABTA visit, and the CPR, with the help of local NF activists and several groups of Muslims currently in Britain, provided the street presence for demonstrations and pickets up and down the country.

CPR FIRST

Once the CPR started the ball rolling, several other groups joined in. The Arab-British Chamber of Commerce attacked the conference plan, but no Arab State was prepared to tell travel agents that if they went to Israel their operations on its soil would be dropped. The Palestinian Liberation Organization in London made threatening noises as well, but in the end spent more time attacking the CPR as a National Front 'front' than trying to stop the conference.

In particular, the PLO could have mobilized student sympathisers at almost every college in Britain to apply pressure on local travel agents. Yet they did nothing. As was shown in Algiers by their implicit recognition of the illegal terror State of Israel, the leaders of the PLO are too busy trying to look 'respectable' to give people fighting in occupied Palestine the total practical and moral support they deserve. For outsiders like the PLO moderates, to recognise Israel is nothing short of treason.

But in spite of the failings of the PLO, the bulk of the blame for ABTA's 1988 conference going ahead in occupied Jerusalem must lie with the travel agents who showed their indifference to Arab suffering by attending. The importance of their presence was underlined by the fact that they were welcomed by no less a person than the President of Israel, Chaim Herzog.

BRUTAL

Tourism is Israel's largest source of income, so it directly finances the brutal repression of the Palestinian people in their own country. And 'brutal' is if anything an understatement. Just look at a few of the facts of what Zionist rule has meant in Palestine this year:

JANUARY. Jewish soldiers in Ramallah beat a Catholic priest unconscious and machine gun his church (Ref: The Wanderer. April 14th 1988).

FEBRUARY. Israeli intelligence bombs a Palestinian refugee ship in a Cyprus port. Four young men buried alive by Israeli soldiers using a bulldozer. (Ref: All national press. 17th Feb 1988).

MARCH. Israeli soldiers raided a West Bank hospital, beating up doctors who tried to protect two injured boys aged 10 and 11. The children were dragged out and beaten severely for 15 minutes. (Ref: Arkansas Gazette, March 2nd 1988).

MAY. Details emerge of life in the Anwar 3 concentration camp, where hundreds of Palestinians are held without trial. Inmates suffer torture, forced labour and extreme dehydration. A Jewish high school student on military training gave further details. "We passed beside three Arabs whose hands and legs were bound and whose eyes were blindfolded. We asked if we could beat them up as much as we felt like, and we were told why not... I grabbed an angle iron and hit to kill. He looked like a pile of dough after I got through with him, bones and flesh. What can I say, I mashed them all up real good". (Ref: Zionist newspaper, Hadashat, May 16th, 1988).

JUNE. On one day in June alone, four Palestinians were murdered by the Israeli army: Fahd M. al-Haiek, 18, was shot dead; Jaffal, a month old baby, was killed by tear gas; Bassam I. al-Sabbagh, 21, was shot dead; Muhammed Tawfic, age 12, was deliberately drowned. (Ref: Al Fajr, June 19th 1988).

SINCE THEN, the death toll has risen to well over 300. Nine thousand have been injured and 13,000 are in prison or concentration camps.

While this butchery goes on, it is up to each of us to run our own 'mini' Campaign for Palestinian Rights. Use the facts here in letters to local press and on radio phone-ins.

"[Israeli] soldiers who were pelted with stones by children chased them up into their village. The children were nimble and managed to escape. Only one child, who was about ten years old, was left behind. [The soldiers] caught him and demanded that he reveal who the stone-throwers were. The boy remained silent and the soldiers started to beat him, or, as one of the soldiers put it, 'to mash his head in'. The child began to howl in an eerie way, but he didn't breath a word. His mother appeared and, with a heart-rending wail, fell upon the soldiers and was also beaten. Only later, when the boy was flat on the ground, his body black and blue - or as one of the soldiers put it, 'looking like a steak' - did it transpire that he was deaf".

LET'S TAKE OUR HOUSES BACK!

WELSH PEOPLE, especially the young, are being driven from their own land by the shortage of houses. Yet the homes 'shortage' which is helping to murder our communities and language is largely an illusion - there are plenty of spare houses, but the corrupt System denies us the right to use what our forefathers built.

The threat from the growing number of English-owned holiday homes is the most obvious. 5.6 per cent of the total Welsh housing stock is now abused in this way. In many rural areas, holiday 'homes' take up 20 per cent of available housing.

Even worse is the fact that 7.4% of our houses are empty and unused. Then add to this figure the number of totally derelict properties which could be rebuilt to house local people. It is clear that something like 1 in 10 of houses in Wales lies empty as homelessness rockets.

WHAT'S THE NF ANSWER?

A sane popular government would:

BAN the purchase of further holiday homes.

LEVY a substantial local rate on all existing holiday homes and on empty properties. The money would go to help Welsh-run tourist businesses to avoid damaging the local economy.

WAVE the payment of capital gains tax by farmers who sell empty or derelict property to Welsh speakers. This would encourage a new breed of self- sufficient Welsh small-holder.

But don't hold your breath! For if we want something done to improve our areas and to preserve our heritage now, we must take action ourselves.

FIRST STEP

The first step could be for community activists to renovate a derelict property and convert it into a Community Centre. This could provide a base for a Welsh language playgroup, youth club, pensioners' socials and even a co-operative providing for the local people.

A good starting point would be to seek permission to use a disused chapel, there are enough of them. Or a farmer may own a redundant barn for which he cannot get planning permission and be willing to let it cheaply. Failing that, OCCUPY somewhere with an absentee Capitalist owner and point out that it's better than getting it burnt down by Meibion Glyndwr!

Whatever is done, the vital thing is to involve the whole community. Stunts designed to push a particular party political line, or which involve a tiny secretive group, are useless. A nation cannot be saved by a Few, it can only be awoken. And to bring about that awakening is the purpose of the Welsh NF/ Ffrynt Cenedlaethol Cymru.

Our culture, language, prosperity and freedom can only be saved and advanced through the active involvement of the Many.

WALES ARISE!
ER BUDD CYMRU!

An NF official at a picket in Ross on Wye explains to a Granada TV crew why Ffrynt Cenedlaethol Cymru and their English comrades are persuading people not to purchase holiday homes.

EGWYDDORION CENEDLAETHOLDEB

Y mae'r syniad yn rhy gyffredin mai dadleuon ar bynciau mawr, haniaethol ac imperialaidd, yw gwir ddeunydd gwleidyddiaeth. Syniad gresynus yw hynny. Ni allaf i ymddiddori mewn gwleidyddiaeth o gwbl oddieithr y wleidyddiaeth honno a gyffwrdd a bywyd beunyddiol fy nghymdogion i a'm cydwladwyr. Hyn a ddylai fod yn brif swydd gwleidyddiaeth yng Nghymru fel y caffo'r pethau hyn, y pethau goreu sy gennym, drychfeddwl yr eisteddfod a'r babell len a'r arddangosfa gelfyddyd a'r dosbarth darllen, eu diogelu a'u noddi a'u dyrchafa a'u gwella fwyfwy. Trefnu holl fywyd Cymru er mwyn sicrhau blaenoriaeth a ffyniant y pethau hyn.

HYSTERICAL REACTIONS

ACTIVITY by FfC Cymru is provoking a hysterical reaction from the Marxist sell-outs in Plaid Cymru and the Labour Party. Spokesman for both groups of traitors have condemned us, as well as falling out on an S4C (Welsh Channel 4) news programme discussing the NF.

That ended with the Plaid Cymru spokesman threatening to take the Labour man to court for Labour's accusation that Plaid are harbouring holiday home arsonists and are in some way encouraging the Ffrynt. Plaid Cymru have also pledged to oppose anything that we say, do or support. A more reactionary position is hard to imagine!

The NFN article about Meibion Glyndwr also featured on the Welsh language Radio Cymru news. The theme of the article was described in fair detail, as was its call to young Welsh people to turn their backs on violence and work politically to build popular community self-reliance.

The programme quoted a spokesman for a Communist rag, Searchlight, which seems to be working with P.C.'s Dafydd Elis Thomas. Thomas was also interviewed and waffled on about us "misusing the term nationalism". That is truly ironic coming from the leader of the most internationalist party in Wales, which dares to pose as a 'nationalist' movement.

NF activists from the West Midlands and Merseyside are now mobilizing to help their comrades in Cymru by bringing political opposition to the purchase of holiday homes in Wales to the streets of England. Picketting of estate agents selling such property has already begun. These have included the distribution of a specially produced leaflet entitled "Don't Murder Wales" which explains why the holiday home question is of such burning importance in Wales.

One such picket in Ross on Wye, Herefordshire, recently featured in a ten minute slot on the Granada Reports programme, which covers much of northern England. And the subject of holiday homes and the activism of Ffc Cymru was also the subject of a major article in the Observer.
